CHRISTIAN CHURCHES OF CANADA ENTER 2nd CENTURY OF CHRISTIAN MISSIONS

During the present year the four major protestant dennominations celebrate together a century of Christian missionary activity. Uniting their efforts the Anglican, United, Presbyterian and Baptist Churches are seeking to present to the joint congregations of the Christian Church a view of the missionary work that is being carried on by the Canadian Churches in lands beyond the sea.

The Churches of Wainwright are fortunate in having the Rev Edward Bragg of British Guiana as the Inter-Church lecturer. The Rev. Bragg will give an illustrated lecture on the work of Christian Missions in British Guiana in St. Andrew's Church, Wednesday evening November 21st, at 8:00 p.m

The Rev. Bragg has served on mission fields in Newfoundland, the Windward Islands, Trinidad, the Barbados, St. Lucia, St. Vincent and Grenada. Since 1941 he has served in the Canadian Presbyterian Mission in British Guina as Field Missionary in Essequibo county, as the Secretary of the Mission Council. He is the author of two books, 'In The Land Of The Master' and a book of young people's addresses, 'Making One's Mark'.

The Rev. Bragg was born at Teignmouth, Devon, England, and was educated in England, Montreal and Selly Oak Colleges, Birmingham. He has travelled widely in Europe and the Near East and can speak with authority on the subject of the Church and Christian Missions.

It is anticipated that all congregations will avail themselves the opportunity of hearing the Rev. Bragg when he gives his illustrated lecture in St. Andrew's Church, Wednesday, November 21st at 8:00 p.m.

Army Film to be Released Shortly

The rubble-filled streets of Caen or the sandy, water-filled foxholes of Holland were all in a day's work to advancing Canadian infantrymen, and are all shown in the army film "The True Glory" which presents the story of the European war from D-Day to VE-Day. They persented different problems but the Canucks tackled them cheerfully, intent only upon destruction of the German enemy. Left, above a Canadian patrol picks its way carefully through the ruins of Caen searching out German snipers. THE WARTIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD

FARMERS' BULLETIN

FARM MACHINERY OFF RATION LIST

All rationing controls have been removed from sales of farm machinery, and restrictions on the production or importation of such machinery have been lifted.

Price controls remain. Generally, maximum price for farm implements is the price at which such items sold during the basic period, August 15—September 11, 1941. Quoted prices do not include cost of delivery to the purchaser.

Under Consumers' Credit Order No. 225, section 10, terms of sale for farm machinery are: 1/3 of quoted price paid in cash; the balance of the credit price to be paid within two years of the date of the contract in stated amounts at specified dates. Any allowance for a trade-in is to be deducted from the unpaid balance.

Despite the lifting of production restrictions, it is expected that the shortage of components such as malleable castings and sheet steel will limit the maximum output of farm implements during the year July 1, 1945, to June 30, 1946, to a 24% increase (on tonnage basis) over the output in the preceding 12 months.

Farmers' Poultry Prices

Farmers selling all types of poultry, except turkeys, direct to consumers are permitted a 25% markup over the wholesale ceiling prices established for the zone in which they are located. Turkey producers are allowed a 20% markup over the wholesale level.

Potato Storage Allowance

(Order A-1560 now in effect)

A storage allowance of 5c per 75-lb. bag of potatoes and 7c per 100-lb. bag is allowed on November 1. Another 5c per 75-lb. bag and 6c per 100-lb. bag may be added on December 1, and another 5c per 75-lb. bag and 7c per 100-lb. bag on January 1, 1946. There will be no storage adjustment for February but monthly increases will be resumed on March 1.

FARMERS' RATION COUPONS

Coupons covering farmer sales or farm household consumption of meat and butter, and sales of preserves must be forwarded to Local Ration Boards in primary producers' envelopes (RB-61). Reports for November should reach the Local Ration Boards not later than December 10.

Following are the valid coupon dates for November:

	MEAT	BUTTER	SUGAR	PRESERVES
November 1.....	M 9	128	..	..
" 8.....	M 10	..	..	..
" 15.....	M 11	129	66, 67	P 20, 21
" 22.....	M 12	130	..	..
" 29.....	M 13	131	..	..

Farmers are required to send in "M" coupons to the Local Ration Board for meat they consume, and meat they sell to farmer neighbours at the rate of 4 lbs. per coupon. Farmers who slaughter meat need not turn in at the end of the month more than half the valid meat coupons in the ration books of their household. Farmers who purchase meat from other farmers must surrender to the selling farmer one meat coupon for every 4 lbs. of meat purchased, even if this means surrendering coupons not yet valid.

FARM SLAUGHTERERS

Farmers who slaughter for their own household consumption or for the consumption of their farmer neighbours, are not required to hold a slaughter permit. Any excess of farm slaughtered meat over the farmer's or his neighbour's needs may be sold only to the holder of a regular slaughter permit in quantities not less than a quarter of Beef or a side of Pork. Sheep, lamb or calves slaughtered by the farmer for his own or his neighbours' use may not be sold into the meat trade.

Licensed slaughterer's quotas for cattle have been temporarily suspended and until further notice a licensed slaughterer may slaughter all the cattle needed for his requirements.

Rationing is your assurance of a fair share.
is a protection against waste . . . shortages . . . inflation.
That is why farmers are asked to continue to collect and turn in coupons to their Local Ration Boards—once a month—in the RB-61 envelope.

For further information apply to the nearest office of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Single License Plate To be Used Next Y'r

Single license plates will be displayed on Alberta motor cars in the new license period opening next April 1, according to information received by the Alberta Motor association from the provincial secretary's department.

The single plate was restored during the past year, after the sticker system was tried out for a year as a war measure.

Officials say that the new 1946-47 plates have been ordered and they will be available to applicants in good time before April 1.

When the old two-plate system will be restored is a question, though there are some suggestions that it will come into effect in the 1947-48 period, as more steel will be available then for civilian needs.

World of Wheat

H. G. L. Strange,
Director, Research Department,
Searle Grain Company, Ltd.

WHEAT QUALITY IMPROVING

The results of the 1945 examination by the "Crop Testing Plan" of many thousands of farmers' wheat fields have now been compiled. The records reveal that no less than 47% (a high record) of the wheat fields tested classified as "A" which means that the grain was good enough to be used as seed by the farmer or by his neighbors. It was also shown that only 20% (a low record) of the samples tested classified as "C" and "Mixtures". This means that 29% of our farmers are needlessly losing money because of lower grades and lower yields, caused by admixtures in their crops of poor and low-yielding varieties. Such farmers can cure this situation very quickly by buying better seed from their neighbors who have "Crop Testing Plan" "A" stocks or by purchasing a few bushels of good Registered seed sealed in the sack and then by sowing this on a few acres of clean summerfallow; then next year such farmers would have from 16 to 20 times as much good seed to sow on a larger acreage.

"Crop Testing Plan" tests reveal, therefore, that while there is room for still further improvement, the prairie wheat crop, as a whole, is year by year steadily improving in quality, which information should serve to add to the reputation of Canadian wheat on world markets.

ITEMS OF INTEREST IN THE WORLD OF FOODSTUFFS

Total wheat stocks in all positions in the U.S.A. on Oct. 1st amounted to 1,044,000,000 bushels, the lowest figure in the last three years—Algeria will have to import an estimated 12 million bushels of wheat this season, as well as about 430,000 tons of feed grain.

Argentine crop conditions remain quite favourable and reports indicate that fully average wheat yields are probable if present prospects are maintained—Belgium and Switzerland are preparing to raise the bread ration as a result of the steady arrival of supplies from abroad—Recent rains in parts of South Africa have relieved the serious drought.

and carnations.

Mr. Ronald Duncan was best man, and the ushers were Mr. George Buker and Mr. Ed. Buker. Mrs. A. Miller played the wedding music, and the soloist Miss E. Dunn, sang "Because" and "O Promise Me."

A reception to 60 guests was held after the ceremony at the Corona hotel, where Mrs. Fraser, mother of the bride, received, wearing a two-piece ensemble of black and fuchsia, completed with a corsage of baby chrysanthemums. Her hat was a black model with black and fuchsia plumes.

Mrs. Pirie, the bridegroom's mother wore an afternoon frock of black crepe, with a hat to tone and a corsage of pink rosebuds and yellow baby chrysanthemums.

The bride's table was laid in white linen and centred with a four-tiered wedding cake, on either side of which were red and pink roses.

Mr. Stanley Cheston proposed the toast to the bride.

During the evening, the guests enjoyed musical selections by Miss Dunn, Miss Mona Ganderton and Mrs. Kenneth Austin.

After a honeymoon trip to Calgary the bridal couple will reside in Edmonton. For traveling, the bride donned a green wool dress with a hat to match and contrasting brown accessories and a muskrat topcoat.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. W. T. Lane, Mrs. E. Ganderton, Mr. and Mrs. K. Fenby, and Mrs. W. J. Seale, all of Wainwright—Edmonton Journal.

MEATLESS SOUPS FOR RATION-WISE

According to one dictionary, "soup is a sort of food made by boiling flesh with other ingredients and water." Sounds terribly unattractive, doesn't it? And evidently the gentleman who devised that definition had no acquaintance with the delicious soups that have no "flesh" in their make up. Poor man, think what he missed!

Many of these meatless soups are substantial enough to make a main course when servings are sufficiently generous. Soups such as these from the Consumer Section of the Dominion Department of Agriculture help both the pocket book and the ration book to recover from the strain of a steak dinner or the occasional extra large roast.

Onion Chowder

3 cups sliced onion
2 tablespoons fat
4 cups boiling water
2 cups diced potatoes
2 teaspoons salt
2 cups milk
1 cup grated cheese
2 tablespoons minced parsley

Cook onions in fat for 5 minutes. Add boiling water, potatoes and salt. Cook until vegetables are tender. Add milk, grated cheese and parsley and reheat. Six servings.

Barley-Vegetable Cream Soup

1/3 cup barley
2 medium onions, diced
2 medium carrots, diced
2 medium potatoes, diced
2 leaves green cabbage or spinach shredded
4 cups milk
1 tablespoon butter
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Cook barley in boiling water until almost tender, 30 minutes. Add vegetables and enough additional water to keep from burning. Simmer until vegetables are tender. Heat milk, add barley-vegetable mixture, butter and seasonings. Simmer 5 minutes longer. Five to six servings.

Squash Potage

2 tablespoons fat
1 small onion, thinly sliced
3 cups diced squash or pumpkin
1 teaspoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups cold water
1½ cups milk
1 egg yolk

Cook onion slowly in 1 tablespoon fat. Add squash, tomatoes, sugar, salt and 1 cup water. Cook until squash is tender, then rub through a sieve. Heat milk, and add to the puree. Mix remainder of melted fat with beaten egg yolk and remaining water. Add to the soup, reheat. Serve with croutons. Six servings.

Tomato Barley Casserole

¾ cup barley, about 2¼ cups cooked
2½ cups boiling water
3 cups canned tomatoes
½ cup diced cooked carrot
¼ cup sliced raw onion
1 teaspoon minced parsley
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon celery salt
½ cup grated cheese
¼ cup bread crumbs

Cook barley in boiling water, 20 minutes. Mix with tomatoes, carrots, onions, parsley and seasonings. Pour into a casserole. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375° F., for 35 minutes. Sprinkle with cheese, cover with bread crumbs. Return to the oven for 10 minutes. Six servings.

Green Tomato Scallop

6 medium green tomatoes
4 large onions, sliced
2 cups soft bread crumbs
2 teaspoons sugar
2 teaspoons salt
Pepper
2 tablespoons bacon fat

Wash and slice tomatoes. Arrange tomatoes, sliced onion, and bread crumbs in layers. Sprinkle tomatoes and onions with sugar, salt and pepper and dot bread crumbs with fat—have bread crumbs on top. Bake ½ hour at 375° F. Six servings.

FRICADILLIES

3 slices whole wheat bread
2 cups rolled oats
3 medium potatoes, cooked and mashed
2/3 cup chopped onion
1 tablespoon chopped pickle
1 teaspoon celery salt
1 teaspoon grated nutmeg
1 tablespoon steak sauce
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
3 eggs

Soak bread in cold water for 5 minutes, press out until dry; mix with rolled oats, add vegetables and seasonings. Add beaten eggs, mix well—form into 12 flat patties. Saute in a little hot fat until brown. Turn and brown other side. Six servings. Serve with spicy chutney or catsup.

CHRISTMAS IS NOT MEATLESS

'Meatless Tuesday' ruling will be rescinded for Christmas Day and New Year's Day, both of which fall on Tuesday, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board announces.

Making the announcement, Prices Board Chairman Donald Gordon explained that the amount of meat which is normally served in Canada as a supplement to the regular "turkey dinners" is so small that enforcing the regulation would cause more annoyance than the saving would warrant. Also, Canada's exports of meat have increased steadily since rationing was reimposed, and deliveries would not be seriously affected by allowing a small amount for holiday festivities.

Though the meatless day restriction is relaxed for Christmas and New Year celebrations, prices must be in line with 1941 levels.

Canadian Homes Survey

National averages for ownership of gas or electric ranges show 62% 32% and 12 per cent of people in cities, small towns and on farms. Although Western figures fall below this, they are better than those for most other regions. The extremely high figures for Ontario of 85%, 59% and 34 per cent are not approached by any other region, and account for the high national average. Prairie figures take second place in cities and small towns with 54% and 25% respectively. But Quebec farm houses, with 4%, exceed the mid-West farms' 3%. British Columbia women have less than half as many as their Prairie sisters.

Refrigerators - mechanical or ice - are owned by 66% of city housewives, 33% of village housewives and 12 per cent of farm house-wives. The comparable national averages are 62% 60% and 34 per cent. Other Prairie folk reported that for cooling food they used boxes or shelves in the basement, food safes, window ledges, etc. 5%, 7% and 2 per cent reported no facilities of any kind for keeping food cool.

Overcrowding, which is Canada's worst housing headache, has not missed the West. Aggravating it are boarders, lodgers and hired help who live in one in every eight city homes, every tenth village home and every sixth farm home. To add to the crush, near relatives, married sons and daughters, parents, grandparents, etc., are living with 12% of city families, 7% of village families and 20 per cent of farm families. This is not all due to wartime shifts in population, as investigators found no surplus of living accommodation anywhere in Canada. As a consequence, Lever's found 16% of city homes, 13% of village and 10 per cent of farm homes with the family suffering the inconvenience of some member sleeping in the living room, dining room, kitchen, or anywhere a cot could be put up or pulled out.

In an evaluation of the state of house interiors, Lever investigators found more than half of Western house interiors cracked, discoloured and in need of paint, paper and general refinishing. More than one in every seven houses in Prairie cities and on farms are so run down that only major repairs or replacements will restore the original appearance of walls, floors and ceilings. In equally unsatisfactory condition is every tenth house in small towns.

The Road Ahead

A very good example of the manner in which a group of veterans can combine for the greater good of all concerned is supplied by the Tilbury brothers. There are four of them altogether, the sons of Mr. and Mrs. H. Tilbury, of Hamilton, Ontario; although one, Ken, being in the regular navy, does not enter the picture. The other three have pooled their gratuities, credits, war savings, and other resources, and are in business for themselves.

Harry Leads Off

The eldest of the trio, Harry, ex-sub-lieutenant, RCN, was the organizer of this family cooperative scheme Before the war, Harry spent four years with a large electrical manufacturing company, and would have been welcomed back by that firm. However, he felt that there would be greater opportunities for him and his brothers in striking out on their collective own, so he went to the other two with his proposal. That is, he wrote to them, because at the time the idea first came to him, the others were separated from him by a couple of oceans. Bob, a flight-sergeant with the RCAF, was in England doing radar work. He is an expert in electronics, having assisted in the installation of radar stations all the way from Florida to Goose Bay, Labrador. Flight-Lieutenant Bill Tilbury was flying with Transport Command of the R.A.F., and was based in India.

Open for Business

The brothers immediately agreed that Harry's plan was sound, and gave him written permission to proceed with the necessary arrangements As a result, the three, now together again, have opened a hardware and radio shop in Hamilton. Harry is the expert on general electrical problems. Bob looks after the radio end Ken is the store manager.

The boys do not intend to limit themselves to selling shovels and condensers. Harry has a revolutionary conception of what electrical maintenance should mean, which he will put into practice as soon as equipment is available. He thinks that there is a very real need, in the Hamilton industrial set-up, for a firm which will contract to service and maintain small machine shops. He believes that the "ounce of prevention" adage can have a commercial application.

Service Their Motto

Harry says: "Most small shops, employing up to a couple of hundred men, keep a maintenance man on the payroll. In most cases he is listed as an electrician, but generally he is just barely able to change a light bulb Ask him about such things as power factor or line load, and he'll think you're giving him double talk. Well, we can provide the answer to that problem. For a set yearly fee, we'll guarantee to keep the shop electrically serviced, so that the manufacturer won't have his schedules disrupted by unnecessary shut-downs. We also will advise him on electrical installations, and you'd be surprised how many small employers need such advise."

Harry went on to explain that some manufacturers, finding that an increase in orders required the addition of another motor, simply hooked one into the circuit. This took care of their immediate power needs, but it also had a detrimental effect not always appreciated by the owner. By overloading the intake lines, he was simultaneously decreasing the overall efficiency of his plant and also laying himself open to being fined by the Hydro, for exceeding the specified current consumption.

"That is where we can help," Harry points out. "We can estimate the electrical load required to run the shop, and also give the man's entire wiring system a thorough examination—and overhauling, if necessary. On top of that, we have a plan which will eliminate the necessity for a plant's shutting down at all when a motor burns out. How? I'm afraid that's our secret.

"... SO NOW WE'LL HAVE A BANKER IN THE FAMILY!"

"Well, Bob has finally decided! When he's finished school he wants to go to work in a bank. And I'm glad—for a lot of reasons..."

He'll get a thorough training, and can even receive university instruction in banking and economics while he is working. Banking isn't learned in a day, but he'll get lots of help—and every opportunity to move up as he proves himself. The road to the top is wide open, and offers:

SECURITY AND PEACE OF MIND

Social security is a phrase prominent in public discussions these days, but the practice of it is not new. Consider the banks and their employees:

1. Pension Funds, to which, with their employees, banks themselves contribute substantially, make it possible for employees to devote all their business lives to banking, sure of an income for life when they reach the age of retirement.
2. Annual vacations with pay.
3. Ordinary sick leave with pay, and special sick leave arrangements in special cases.
4. Group life insurance contributed to jointly by banks and employees.
5. Good working conditions.
6. Unlimited opportunity for enterprise and advancement.

Banks and their staffs, in co-operation with each other, have made it possible for the latter to enjoy a well-founded sense of permanency and security.

EDGERTON

The Edgerton Board of Trade met Thursday in the Dining Room of the Laurie Hotel. A good attendance of 24 members discussed the possibility of purchasing a Community Hall for the Village. It is hoped that out of the discussions every one will give some thought of how this can be accomplished and as to the best form of management so that at the next meeting some good suggestions may be forthcoming.

We are all very pleased to welcome home Major B. M. Wheeler with his wife and family.

A fire partially destroyed the residence occupied by the Ray families Friday night. Fortunately the alarm was turned in and the fire engine and many helpers were soon at the scene and saved the total destruction of the building. Four children were the only occupants of the house at the time and the oldest of them, a lad of 9 brought the others down stairs to safety.

Happy Montgomery was a business visitor to the city.

Wak Krinbill left Wednesday for his new location at Pouce Coupe.

ADULT EDUCATION ASSOC. DISCUSS "PROBLEM" PARENTS

On Friday evening the local Adult Education Association held the second of five forums dealing with child psychology, in the Separate School. Mrs. J. A. MacKenzie led the discussion on "problem" parents, rather than "problem" children.

The meeting was attended by about 20 adults. Mrs. MacKenzie listed the various categories into which the problem parent falls, viz. the over solicitous parent, the too-strict parent the negligent parent, the nagging parent and the quarelling parents. A lively group discussion ensued, dealing with each of the problems and the harm done to the child of such "problem" parents.

The third meeting of the series will be held on Friday evening at 8 p.m. in the Separate School when Mrs. J. Perkins will lead the discussion on "Disciplining the Child." All interested adults are given a cordial invitation to attend these meetings.

ALLOWANCE SPENT ON FOOD, CLOTHING

OTTAWA—Among other interesting facts which it is expected will be disclosed here by regional directors of family allowances during the course of a three-day conference beginning Nov. 21, is that recipients of allowances have been spending their money, first, on foot and second on clothing. Medical and dental services come third in respect to disbursements from family allowances.

The fact that family allowances are being used to supply food and clothing for Canadian children has been revealed by surveys in Winnipeg and Vancouver.

Among regional directors who will attend the conference are; W. R. Bone, Victoria, for British Columbia; Lieut.-Col. H. C. L. Gillman, Edmonton for Alberta; J. J. McGuerran of Regina for Saskatchewan; C. B. Howden, Winnipeg for Manitoba; and F. C. Jackson, Toronto for Ontario.

EARLIER SESSION IS SAID PROBABLE

Possibility of the next session of the legislature starting late in January was seen in provincial government circles Monday. Departments were starting to prepare estimates for presentation to the legislature.

Opening in late January would mean one of the earliest sessions on record. It is understood many government members have been pressing for an early start. Last year the annual spring session got under way Feb. 22 and lasted until April 6.

Farmer-members particularly are interested in an early session start so that they can get back to their farms before spring operations commence.

Some government officials Monday said that even if it should be impossible to get preparations completed for a start in late January, it was "fairly definite" the session would be called early in February. Feb. 1 and Feb. 8 were named as possible dates.

The session will be the third of the 10th Alberta legislature.

BRITAIN TO REPEAL ANTI-STRIKE ACT

LONDON—The government has decided to repeal the Trades Disputes act passed in 1927, which made illegal a repetition of the 1926 general strike the Daily Express said today.

This means, the paper said, that as soon as the repeal is passed, probably early in the new year:

1. A general strike once more will be legal.

2. Trades unions will be able to take compulsory political levies from all members who do not deliberately "contract out."

3. Civil servants will be able to join trades unions affiliated to the Trades Union congress and will be able to join in industrial strikes.

4. Local authorities will be free to refuse to employ anyone who does not belong to a trades union.

Dorothy Irene Smith Married in Vancouver

A quiet home wedding took place Friday, November 9th, at 7 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Kidd, 532 Campbell Ave., Vancouver, when Dorothy Irene Smith, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Smith of Wainwright was united in marriage to Robert W. Kidd, only son of Mrs. W Kidd and the late Mr. W. Kidd, with Rev. Mossea officiating at the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a street length gown of medium blue with a corsage of carnations and gardenias.

Mrs. Doris Clarke attended her sister as matron of honor and Mr. Arthur Clarke supported the groom as best man.

A wedding reception was held for a small gathering of close friends after the ceremony. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Smith, Wainwright; Mrs. Kidd, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clarke, Mrs. Kirk and Mrs. Griffon and son Ronnie.

USE 1,500 WORKERS ON ALBERTA PROJECT

OTTAWA—Hon. James G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture, in a return tabled in the commons on Friday, admitted that the government had not yet determined when the Red Deer river diversion project would be started; but he gave figures to indicate that it would provide 18 months employment for 1,500 workers.

Mr. Gardiner stated that no report had yet been received by the dominion government from the Alberta government on the possibilities of the project.

The return was tabled in answer to an inquiry by Victor Quelch (S.C., Acadia).

Cost of the river diversion, main canal to the principal reservoir itself, namely, from Hamilton lake, is estimated at $6,750,000, exclusive of any power development the minister reported.

The project involves the construction of a dam on the Red Deer river approximately 30 miles east of Red Deer, and a canal to Hamilton on Kirkpatrick lake just south of the town of Coronation.

In reporting on the project, Mr. Gardiner gave the following information.

1. Cost will be around $6,750,000.

2. Estimated labor requirements. The actual construction of the works will employ 1,500 men steadily for 18 months. This does not include the indirect labor required in the preparation of materials, cement, lumber, equipment and miscellaneous supplies, nor that required in servicing the purchasing power of these men and their families.

3. The project will provide settlement, permanent homes and means of livelihood for 7,500 families in a section of western Canada from which over 90 percent of the original settlers were forced by drought. It resettles an area now practically depopulated. The area will support between 30,000 and 40,000 people.

4. The project will provide irrigation for approximately 500,000 acres of land suitable for irrigation. This land is not now in production and is largely publicly owned.

5. It will give constant flow to approximately 1,200 miles of dry creek channels traversing an area containing 12 000,000 acres of range lands, and will materially increase the livestock carrying capacity of such lands.

6. It will rehabilitate 24 urban communities now practically depopulated from the years of drought.

There's nothing like climbing off your pedestal to put you back on top.

WAINWRIGHT, WEDNESDAY NOVEMBER 21st, 1945

WAINWRIGHT'S VICTORY LOAN

Just as we of the Star got things lined up for our Victory Loan story, we find that Wainwright really outdid themselves as far as the latest returns of the Victory Loan show.

With a quota of 260 thousand dollars, and reaching an overall total of 389 thousand dollars at the end of the loan drive, we might be well proud of our achievements, when the thermometer still rose to greater heights to reach a total of over 430 thousand dollars to date.

What this is going to mean to Wainwright and district we fail to guess. There is no doubt that it will be noticed in the circles that matter.

It has often been wondered by us, that sometimes industrialists look over these reports to find just where the money is located in the country. It might well mean that if there are any new industries to be located in Alberta, Wainwright might receive consideration as being located in the ultimate spot, from which the flow of manufactured articles would originate to the consumer.

However time alone will tell just what it means to make a decent showing in a nation wide scale. Well done Wainwright, we're all proud of our town and district.

WE'RE DEAD BUT WE WON'T LAY DOWN

Our undertaker, Mr. McLeod will have a job to do pretty soon if the business men of Wainwright don't show a little more enthusiasm for our Board of Trade.

Last Wednesday, which was Board of Trade night, showed just how much interest there was, when a handful of members turned out to give their support to anything that was to offer.

What is the matter? Don't you care how things are done for Wainwright, or is it too cold to go out at night, or just what is it? There are people that take an interest in the Board of Trade meetings who have no stake in our town, no business to make sure that it prospers, because they are on a salary, and if the old town does fold up their cheque will roll in just the same. What is the matter with the rest of the business section?

We say business section, but the Board of Trade is not a one man band by any means, the prime members should be business men, but all are welcome. There are always a few railroaders in attendance, as well as a few farmers and always some salary men, such as school teachers and others.

Remember a membership card does not entitle you just to sit back and let the rest of the world go by, indeed it does not. A membership card entitles you to work hard, and even harder than that, to make Wainwright a liked community, recognized as a leader in the social, business and sport life of the other towns around us.

Vermilion has the shining example of a board of trade, that in our opinion, is the best one in these parts. They get things done, have a good time doing them, and when all is said and done have the mutual feeling of helping the town and making it a better place to live.

What's wrong with Wainwright, surely we are just as good a town as Vermilion in other respects, and why not in our Board of Trade?

For the next meeting, to be held on the 5th of December, it is hoped there will be a good turn out, as there will be important matters to discuss as well as election of officers. The main highlight of the evening will be some guest speakers, which in all probability will prove to be very interesting, and should attract everyones attention.

In case most of the people don't know just what the agenda is, and most don't, as they were not in attendance last meeting, it is hoped to have Mr. Townley-Smith give a short speech, on the advisability of having an Agriculture Fair in Wainwright next summer.

This in itself would mean quite a boost for Wainwright if we just get going. It is earnestly hoped that a large portion of our farming population will be in attendance, as it will take a good board of farmers to put this plan in operation.

Also the big surprise of the whole affair will be a dinner meeting which will be held in the hotel. This is one of the reasons that some members have not been in attendance lately, but without this excuse there is no earthly reason that we should not have a large turn out on Wednesday, December 5th.

Come on Wainwright, (this phrase is getting a little worn in these editorial columns, but Wainwright needs a lot of coming) let us get behind the Board of Trade, and in the end, the Board of Trade will get behind us. See you on Wednesday, December 5th.

PASTEURIZATION SAID ONLY SURE MILK SAFEGUARD

In its current campaign to obtain compulsory pasteurization of milk throughout Canada, the Health League of Canada emphasizes that clean raw milk, even if produced under ideal conditions, is not always dependably safe.

Clean milk is essential from a sanitary viewpoint and safeguards health to a certain extent in that from it is eliminated much disease-carrying dirt. Many safeguards can be taken to assure clean milk, but even clean milk, if unpasteurized, can carry germs.

Dr. John R. Fraser, a member of McGill University's medical faculty, says that milk is "one of the most difficult foods to produce, draw, keep, handle and deliver in a clean state. Most foods usually are cooked well enough to kill any harmful or disease producing germs that are in or may get in them, whereas milk to a great extent is consumed in the uncooked state."

Dr. Frank Pedley of Montreal, another authority, in a radio broadcast a few years ago, told about a father who did not believe in pasteurization. This father arranged to have his baby fed certified milk that was always obtained from the same cow. After a time the baby contracted bovine tuberculosis. The cow was tested and was found to have tuberculosis in an advanced stage.

Dr. Pedley commented that infectious diseases in cattle often occur and contaminate milk between tests which are made only about twice a year. The same is true in regard to milkers and handlers of milk.

Milk must be clean and must be pasteurized to make it absolutely safe.

Dr. Adelard Groulx, Director of the City of Montreal Health Department says "raw milk and its products still remain the cause of too many infections. Pasteurization of milk should be universal.

The power of destruction we now have in our hands can only be controlled by God in our hearts.

sleeves. She carried an arm bouquet of deep pink roses.

After the ceremony a reception for fifty guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Morgan, mother of the groom receiving with the bridal party.

To welcome her guests, Mrs. Redman wore a floor length gown of pale rose cut crepe, the sweetheart neckline accented by rhinestone clips. She wore matching earrings of rhinestone and her corsage was of deep pink roses. Mrs. Morgan's dress was an afternoon model of green wool trimmed in black velvet and her flowers were talisman roses.

The People's Peace

The foreign ministers of the great powers that have worked together for victory have failed to reach an agreement in one of the first major attempts to bring settlement of post -war issues. The ordinary man well may ask, "What hope is there of peace?"

Failure of the conference in some of its major aspects was confirmed by State Secretary Byrnes of the United States in one of the most forthright discussions of international issues. "Peace must be based upon mutual understanding and mutual respect. It cannot be secured by procedural manoeuvrings which obscure from the people the real and vital issues upon which their peace depends" said Mr. Byrnes, who declared "it must be a people's peace'.

There is hope too, in the fact that Britain and the United States stood firm on the principles at stake, and did not yield so that they would be able to announce an "agreement" of expediency. There has been some advance at least from the spirit of Munich.

What is a people's peace?

The British Prime Minister, Clement Attlee, stated the situation well in a recent speech to the Trade Union Congress in Blackpool, England, He said:

"Real peace in the world cannot be established by the force of great powers, however overwhelming. There must be a change of heart if peace is to be something better than an uneasy interval between wars—A new world cannot be made by governments, but only by people."

And President Truman said recently, "Let us not fail to grasp this supreme chance—to create an enduring peace under the guidance of God."

These two great leaders of widely differing political and economic views, have pointed out this way of greater living. It is the change of heart that comes when we turn to God and find a new attitude towards others which results in wholesome and peaceful relationships. This change in our habits of feeling and thinking will not be easy. But as we learn this secret within our nation—in home, industry and government—we will contribute to the real "peoples peace.

The idea in being hitched is to pull together.

When I insist, you resist.

HOME EDUCATION

THAT FOUR-LETTERED WORD

"Come here to Mother, you darling!" Marian Graham held out her arms, and two-year-old Frankie climbed upon her lap to be fondled and rocked.

Marian's Aunt Celia regarded the scene with amusement, recalling the past.

"Aren't you the same mother who didn't rock babies or fuss over them? she asked laughingly.

"The very same," replied Marian. "I was almost austere with Dotty and Jim, wasn't I?"

"Everything by the clock—no holding, no rocking, no picking them up when they cried. You weren't going to spoil your babies, nor were you going to let your Aunt Celia spoil them when she visited you!"

Marian kissed Frankie's curly head. "I still think it's important for babies and older children to eat and sleep and do other things on schedule. But I decided loving them was also important."

"You don't mean," asked Aunt Celia, "that you didn't love Jim and Dotty as much as you do Frankie?"

"Of course I did, but I'm afraid I was so busy with schedules and child psychology I didn't show it. In fact, some child psychologists were saying then that you shouldn't be demonstrative with your children—that it caused some kind of complex. They said you shouldn't sympathize when your child tumbled down and hurt his knee, for fear of making him soft.

"Fortunately, Jim's and Dotty's daddy didn't pay much attention to such ideas, and he'd be so glad to see the children when he came home from work that he'd romp with them. One day I realized they seemed to enjoy their daddy a lot more than they did me—in fact to like him better. Then I knew I was making the same mistake my mother had made—only for a different reason. I wasn't telling them nor showing them that I loved them."

Aunt Celia nodded. "Your mother wasn't the demonstrative type."

Marian smiled. "I think it sprang from that stern New England ancestry she was so proud of. Anyway, she made little show of affection even to her children. The first time I remember her kissing me was when, at fifteen, I went on a trip. I do recall, though, when I was eight or ten asking, 'Did you ever kiss me, Mother?' and she said, 'Oh yes, when you were a baby!' I would have given anything if she had kissed me then, like mothers in story books did.

"There were times when deep in my heart I used to wonder, 'Does my mother really love me?' Mother would have been amazed. She assumed children should know that of course their parents loved them. She worked early and late making our clothes, cooking, washing, and ironing for us. I didn't appreciate it when I was small, but when I was grown I valued all that she had done. Children take those things for granted, as their right—they don't see the love back of them unless it is expressed in words If only my mother had been just a little demonstrative at times—had let me know that she loved me!"

Aunt Celia nodded. "I suppose many of us had the same experience. I'm glad your children are profiting by yours."

"Oh, yes. Jim is getting too big for lap-holding, but he still likes good-night kisses. And the other day, when Frankie pinched his finger in the door, Dotty kissed him, and called, 'It's all right, mother. I put some love on it.'"

Aunt Celia smiled and said, "Well, we could certainly use a lot more love in the world, and we should start supplying our own families."

Radiograms

VE9AI

Here are a couple of "homey" stories about your radio idols:

A young couple was recently sent from an employment agency to the home of Jim and Marion Jordan (CJCA's "Fibber McGee and Molly) to be interviewed for positions in the Jordan Home. When they returned to the agency after an hours talk with the radio stars, one of them reported:

"Oh yes, the Jordans were very nice to us. But they're not funny at all. Not one joke in the whole hour. And when they showed us through their home, I opened every closet, and jumped back but not a thing fell out!"

Fibber and Molly's home problems took a turn for the worse October 20 when one of their Kern County California farmhouses went up in smoke. Fibber and Molly revealed that an unoccupied house that was being remodelled for occupancy by their ranch foreman near Woody, California, caught fire from unknown causes and was completely destroyed.

The house, with considerable equipment, was valued at approximately $6,000. When at their cattle ranch the Jordans themselves occupy another house several miles away.

ONE GOES—ONE COMES!

Douglas Greig has rejoined CJCA's announcing staff after spending 4½ years with the R.C.A.F. Doug left CJCA in April 1941 as a radar technician and went overseas immediately following the usual preliminary training. He was soon back in Canada as an instructor in radar at Clinton, Ontario.

From Clinton he was transferred to Alaska, then to Vancouver for service on the west coast.

Incidentally, Doug managed to do more at the west coast than prepare for the Japs—so much more in fact that he came to Edmonton with a beautiful bride.

Doug replaces Don Langbell, who left recently to take over management of his father's photo studios at Camrose, Alberta.

The business was conducted by Lenore Wright and Marjorie Joyce.

The senior girls were given a talk by Mrs. Perkins, our local school nurse and the junior girls were taught First Aid by their leader.

The meeting then closed with Taps.

The next meeting will be held at 7:15 at the home of Mrs. Hancock and the group will attend in a body the missionary lecture to be held in the Presbyterian Church at 8:00 o'clock.—R.A.

Vera Vague Sets Net For Charlie

Charlie McCarthy will try to dodge the net Vera Vague will have out for him when the man huntress of the air-waves visits him and Edgar Bergen on the broadcast to be heard next Sunday, November 25. The comedy half-hour airs at 8:00 p.m. (EST) over NBC.

Charlie figures there is safety in numbers and will team up with Bergen in contriving to escape the tenacious charms of Miss Vague. However, both Bergen and his wooden sprite will discover the young lady comes from the never-say-die school and therein the fun begins.

Anita Gordon and Ray Nobel's orchestra offer the program's musical touches.

Our problem is not to get back to normal but to go on to change—not to find a better way to do old things but a new way to do everything..

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE COMMISSION

Winnipeg - (undated - An extensive campaign to meet urgent labour needs in the woods industry has been developed by the Department of Labour. At least 50,000 more men than are now engaged in this industry must be secured as soon as possible, it was stated.

Fred J. White, Regional Superintendent, Unemployment Insurance Commission, Winnipeg, revealed that in the Prairie Region alone, 8,000 men are needed for lumbering or pulpwood cutting. "Canada's number one item on its peacetime programme is the construction of homes for our returning veterans. Lumber is needed for these homes and every person who accepts employment in the woods industry is making a real contribution to this programme. Never in the Nation's history has the wealth of our forests been in such urgent demand as it is today," he said.

In addition to the need for lumber for home building in Canada and for the reconstruction of Europe huge quantities of pulpwood are required for the pulp and paper industry. "The manufacture of paper and newsprint is most important both for our own use and for our export trade" Mr. White said.

The recruiting campaign will be carried through the National Employment Service with the assistance of Provincial Agricultural Officials working under the Dominion-Provincial farm agreement. The appeal is being directed both to urban and rural workers with a particular emphasis to farmers and agricultural workers who can be spared from farms during the winter slack season.

"Wages are good and operators have greatly improved camp accommodation during the war years. In most cases employers are paying the cost of transportation to the place of employment," the Regional Superintendent stated.

Distributors May Sell More Cream

After November 1st, milk distributors may sell 10 percent more butter fat in cream form, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board announces. The maximum butterfat content of the cream is still limited to 18 percent

Announcing the increase, K. H. Olive, dairy products administrator, explained that increased allowances in cream sales were made to meet distribution problems arising from increased population since June 1944. "The butterfat supply situation in Canada is still difficult and every effort will be required to maintain our present butter ration levels," he pointed out.

ALLOW RATIONS SCHOOL MEALS

School teachers wishing to serve hot lunches to school-children during the cold weather can apply at the ration office for coupons to cover rationed commodities. Applicants should state the number of children and the number of days on which meals will be served.

T.B. QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. What is the difference between tuberculosis infection and tuberculosis?

A. When tubercle bacilli enter the body they produce a hypersensitiveness to their product—tuberculin. As long as the germs remain localized and do not produce advancing disease, the condition is spoken of as infection. This is detectable by means of the tuberculin test.

Tuberculosis is a disease which is manifested by symptoms at some time, or by definite evidence of abnormal changes. Strictly speaking, both conditions are abnormal and may be called disease, but in infection the area is very small and the patient is not ill. Infection may go on to disease.

Q. At what time of life does most first infection take place?

A. During childhood, .e., before the fifteenth year. With the isolation of patients in santoria and better precautions against infection, and a decreasing incidence of disease, the first infection is now perhaps being prolonged to later years.

Mercy Plane To Baffin Island

On the morning of Tuesday, October 2nd, a sleek, twin-engined Dakota plane rose from Rockcliffe Airport, at Ottawa, soared into the gray skies and headed for Baffin Island, in Canada's Eastern Arctic. On board, besides the R.C.A.F. crew, were upwards of five hundred pounds of medical supplies—sulpha drugs, vaccine intravenous solutions, penicillin and other medicines for use in fighting a serious outbreak of typhoid on parts of Baffin Island. Part of these medical supplies were destined to Dr. Noel R. Rawson, Medical Officer of Health for the Northwest Territories Administration, now at Cape Dorset, and the remainder were to be parachuted to Dr. Gordon Gaulton, Medical Officer at the Pangnirtung Mission Hospital. The plane was scheduled to stop at Goose Bay Airport in Labrador on its way to the Frobisher Bay Airport on Baffin Island.

The first word of severe illness among the natives at Cape Dorset reached the Department of Mines and Resources in June when it was reported that four natives had died and several others were seriously ill. Descriptions of the symptoms were sent to both Dr. Rawson, Medical Officer at Chesterfield Inlet, on Hudson Bay, and to the Department at Ottawa, and medical advice was relayed to Robert Cruikshank, Hudson's Bay Company manager at Cape Dorset.

Radio communication was maintained with the centre of the outbreak and when R.M.S. Nascopie, carrying the Dominion Government's annual patrol, reached that point on July 20, 45 deaths had occurred and many natives were ill. Dr. George S. MacCarthy and Dr. Campbell Laidlaw, of Ottawa, who accompanied the annual patrol as medical officers, took blood samples for analysis and prescribed sulfa drugs. Radio reports received by the patrol after the Nascopie had left reported no more deaths. The diagnosis indicated some form of intestinal infection, and examination of the blood samples lead to the belief that the outbreak was typhoid fever. Other cases of serious illness were reported from Chorkbak Inlet and Markham Bay, eastward of Cape Dorset on the southern coast of Baffin Island, and from Pangnirtung, on the east coast of the Island.

Some time after the departure of the Nascopie, the Department was advised from Cape Dorset of further outbreaks, and arrangements were made with the R.C.A.F. to fly Dr. Rawson from Chesterfield Inlet to Cape Dorset. This was carried out by Flt. Lieut. J. M. Reid in a Canso flying boat and the doctor was put down at the centre of trouble on September 10. He found thirteen cases at Cape Dorset, six of which were critical. He was also advised of several new cases at Chorkbak Inlet and the Air Force again co-operated by taking Dr. Rawson to that point and return. Dr. Rawson remained at Cape Dorset and sent out a call for additional medical supplies, and these were carried in by the Dakota plane on its nearly 2,000-mile flight.

Canada's Eskimo population—approximately 7,500—engaged in a stern battle with nature, suffering depletion at times from accident and disease, cannot afford such heavy casualties as those which result from epidemic diseases like diphtheria and typhoid. That is why aid was rushed to them at all possible speed. Not so many years ago it would have taken weeks or even months for medical aid and supplies to reach the scene of such an outbreak. Now it is only a matter of days until the mercy plane sets down doctors, nurses and whatever is needed in the way of supplies to combat any new peril which threatens this little race of people whose presence in the Arctic dates back to almost the beginning of the Christian Era, and whose resourcefulness and fortitude have sustained them in this inhospitable land down through the centuries.

PRICE NEW CARS AT 1941 LEVELS

Prices of new motor cars will be set at the 1941 level, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board announces. The new procedure for establishing maximum retail prices for cars will not result in increased prices, Board officials point out. Any commission, reward or premium including used cars or goods turned in or taken in exchange must form part of the retail ceiling price for the new car.

After November 19, manufacturers and importers must obtain from the Administrator of Motor Vehicles the maximum retail delivered prices and notify dealers before selling, the Board order states.

WAR OF MONEY STILL GOES ON

We are going to talk this week about important money. Not the millions that you've been hearing so much about lately, but the little money that belongs to people we all know.

This is the money of a soldier's wife. It's quite a small sum—only $72 a month. That is the wife's allowance of $35, with $12 for one child, plus the $22 her husband allows her out of his pay.

Out of this $72, she's had to pay rent, buy food—with extra milk for the baby—and clothes for them both. It hasn't been easy but she and thousands of her penny-pinching sisters have done it and come up smiling.

Not only that—they bought a great "welcome home" banner to put across the front door for when he comes.

To all of these wives and other dependents the fight to keep down prices and rents on the home front is one of the most important battles of this war, for it is a battle whose outcome will determine how much or how little security and happiness all of us will have in the months and years ahead.

To help them and everyone in the battle against inflation every Canadian must watch with both eyes alert to detect any rise in prices. The coming of peace into the world doesn't mean the end of the war of money. In fact, it gives it a new strength and vigor.

It was after the last war that inflation got its worst work in, when the cost of living rose like a sky rocket until the index hit a peak of 191 in July, 1920.

This will happen again—sure as shootin'—if we don't continue to pull back on inflation, every last man and woman pulling against it, like a nation-wide tug-of-war. As long as prices stay put, we'll weather the in-between of war and peace. That's the answer to a thousand problems—price control—stabilized money—steady new markets, the whole set-up is held within those two words, price control.

Increased Tourist Traffic in Alberta

Registration of cars at national parks and reserves in the province showed a substantial increase this year, according to information received by the Alberta Motor Association.

Figures compiled for registrations at Banff, Elk Island, which is east of Edmonton, Jasper, Nemiska, in south eastern Alberta, and Waterton Lakes show a total of 52,896 cars with 212,293 visitors for the nine months' period ended Sept. 30. In the same period of 1944 there were 38,829 cars and a passenger total of 159,384.

Cars entering customs stations in Alberta from the U.S. for touring purposes dropped in an eight months' period from 9,822 last year to 6,239. With the removal of U.S. and Canadian restrictions on the use of gasoline, figures for travel are believed to show a good improvement over a year ago.

ARMISTICE—A MILESTONE FOR PEACE

On Armistice day we remember those who have given their lives in two world wars. Is this two minutes silence long enough for us to think of our friends and relatives who have died for us? For twenty-one years 10,000,000 Canadians celebrated Armistice Day before this war: 7,000,000 hours of gratitude for courage and sacrifice! The gratitude felt in this silence challenges us to use all our energies of heart, mind and spirit to build a sound lasting peace.

As the days go by, events happen which mould the future. They may be small events, a prejudice which is caught up and built upon by the next person until it becomes a government policy, a national powder keg. Every man, woman and child in Canada is moulding the future of our country. How slow we are to realize—"That means me!" When we do see it we can fight to create that mould out of our strengths—courage, honesty and hard work, not out of our weaknesses—prejudice, greed and fear.

How can we do this? We can put an end to personal wars. We can keep our hearts open and let affection for lost loved ones be used for those around us. As one Canadian mother whose husband fell at Dieppe writes:

"I'll thank the Lord who made him fearless, though valor claimed his life.
Like him I'll be a fighter ever, and conquer in the strife.
I may not raise a cross of stone to hallow the place he fell,
But for his sake I'll fight to build the land he loved so well."

We can live as we want our nation to live. We can begin to make the other fellow, the other nation great.

Then Canada will have an inner strength, a dignity and authority as she takes her place among the nations. Her dealings will be fair because Canadians are fair. Her policy will be for the good of all nations because Canadians have learned to care for each other. She will be honest because Canadians have nothing to hide. Canada, clean, strong and free—a country whose people have discovered "the things that belong unto people".

BEAUTY OPERATORS SILENCE STUDENTS

CALGARY—A group of hairdressing students who attended a meeting here Friday night of the Calgary hairdressers who are endeavoring to introduce a beauty parlor operators code in the province, were not allowed to express any opinions against the code, the Calgary Herald learned Saturday.

The proposed code would ban advertising of prices of beauty parlor services, and would cause students who have just completed their training, to wait one year before being given an operators' license.

"When one of the students stood up to make a statement on behalf of the students, she was told that her opinions would not be accepted, and that as they were not yet practicing hairdressers, they would know nothing about it," a person at the meeting told the Herald.

All the students attending the meeting will soon finish their course and are planning to start as beauty parlor operators. Those present were all over 21 years of age.

About 70 persons were at the meeting, but represented less than half the shop owners in Calgary. It is understood they were strongly in favor of stopping advertising of prices.

Sea Cadets Hold "At Home" on Friday

The officers and ratings of the R.C.S.C. "EXETER" held their first series of "At homes" to their many friends and some parents on Friday evening November 16th. Party games ably conducted by Sub Lieut. Hot Dogs and cokes were the evening rations.

Dancing continued to 23.30, the music being supplied by the High School Swingsters, who without a doubt are the coming orchestra of the town and are to be congratulated on their wonderful performance.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

November 19, 1945

The Editor,
The Star,
Wainwright, Alberta.
Dear Sir,

I take this opportunity of thanking you for the excellent work you did in assisting your town to go over the top so successfully in the Ninth Victory Loan. Without the active support of the newspapers, the wonderful rersults would have been impossible to obtain.

On behalf of the National War Finance Committee, we thank you very much for your efforts.

Yours very truly,
J. B. CROSS,
Provincial Chairman,
Public Relations Section.

NINTH LOAN TOTAL NEARS 2 BILLIONS

OTTAWA—The National War Finance committee announced here Saturday that when the final count is made the proceeds from the Ninth Victory Loan will likely amount to $2,000,000,000.

Friday night's over-all picture showed 2,881,129 applications for $1,980,045,200 as compared with 3,015,988 applications for $1,535,217,200 at the comparable point last spring. After that point $33,700,000 in late reports came in, which suggests that the $19,954,800 required now to reach the two-billion mark is almost certain to be attained, if not exceeded.

Analysis of the total sales reveals that the general canvass produced 1,366,686 applications for $890,582,050; the payroll savings plan 1,508,543 applications for 289,620,450. This makes a total of sales to individuals of $1,180,202,500. Canvass of special names produced 5,900 applications for $799,842,700.

With some overseas reports yet to come in, the men and women of Canada's armed forces, here and abroad, have invested more than $80,000,000. This is $25,000000 more than a fair greater total of personnel invested in the Eighth Loan, although the combined objective this time was $15,000,000 less.

We are reformers in spring and summer. In autumn and winter we stand by the old. Reformers in the morning—conservatives at night. Reform is affirmative; convervatism negative. Conservatism goes for comfort—reform for truth.—Emerson.

Poor Attendance at 'Wain. Day' Meeting

With little enthusiasm being shown a public meeting was held on Friday night in the Town Hall for the discussion of the feasibility of holding the annual Wainwright Days, as in past years.

Nominations were opened for the position of chairman and secretary, and two of our local business men were elected to the position, namely Mr. F. G. Conroy and W. C. Huntingford.

It was thought that if the committees were kept as near as possible the same as last year, it would help relieve the strenous work of re-organizing a whole new committee.

After various debates, and contraversy, it was decided by the small gathering present to form the different committees as listed below:

Show—Messrs. Washburn and Cork
Advertising—Messrs. Coleman and Huntingford
Treats—Messrs McGregor, Conroy Coleman and Ryan.
Finance—Messrs. Conroy and Huntingford
Attraction—Messrs. L. Tory, Koch, and J. Mitchell

Various topics were discussed in the line of different attractions that could be obtained and it was decided upon at the meeting to give the attraction committee the full authority to go ahead and get the best attractions possible with what ever monies are allotted to them.

It looks like big days are planned for Wainwright on December 11th and 12th, when the merchants of Wainwright play host to adults and kiddies alike on those two days.

There will be treats galore in store for the kiddies, as well as a special picture show that will be free for the kiddies, which we feel will be sure to please.

EDITORS NOTE: Lets get behind this worthy campaign, Mr. Merchant. It will no doubt prove to be quite a good-will booster, by which the town as a whole will benefit. In other words, it looks like Gerry and Walter will be out this week to seek donations to help further the programme, so when they call please give them all your co-operation, and make their task easier. Look for us, we'll be seeing you.

Get the "in-the-ways" out of the way the want ad way.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like at this time to extend my thanks and appreciation to the friends of Wainwright and Greenshields districts who so kindly wrote letters of respect for me.

Mr. T. Marfleet, Sec.-Treas
Vermilion River Municipality,
Marwayne

Dear Sir:

This letter is to inform you that the Doctors now practising in Vermilion, have decided against renewing municipal contracts for the coming year.

It is our intention to continue the present arrangement until December 31st, after which it is our intention to revert to private practice.

This change has been made necessary by the times, scarcity of medical and nursing assistance, and greatly increased costs of carrying on general medical practice.

We feel the members of council, also the people concerned will appreciate our position in this matter. Eventually some form of Government controlled medical care will probably in some measure duplicate the service heretofore rendered.

In terminating these contracts, please allow us to express our appreciation of the sincere co-operation and utmost cordiality which has always prevailed between council representatives and physicians in discussions relating to contract in force.

Medical service on the basis of private practice will be maintained as heretofore, and as circumstances warrant, and medical equipment and supplies become available, these will be extended as much as is possible.
